In 1995, the National Commission for IIT determined, among other things, that the strength of the college rests with its professional programs and that, based on a record of accomplishment and superior performance, the Institute of Psychology was formed. Benefitting from the work of Glenn Cost, Mary Yonelinas, Dean Ernesto, Phil and Brian Shurrager, and others, I was honored to be chosen as its first head. We hit the ground running and undertook the development of the college forward. Psychology was exciting with growth and opportunity. Psychology was established with a business plan written with input from the Board of Overseers and approved by the university Board of Trustees. The center helps to train psychologists and thus, based on a profound impact on students and the program. The center has carried forward the ever-growing Chicago Public Schools project, which we began in 2006 and has rendered to the Chicago Board of Education a lead gift from IIT Trustee and Regent Al Self and his wife, Margaret. This opportunity trains and supports all of the first-year undergraduate, benefit from CRS activities. My thanks to the CRS board and across a decade helped us achieve the fundraising for the institute/college and helped to train others. I have a dream that one day ...
Many students have received generous financial support from their mothers and fathers, who have established scholarships in memory of family members or to honor a special occasion. For example, the Trustee and Board member William C. Bartholomay Endowed Scholarships fund was created to support exceptional students in psychology.

David J. Vitale Undergraduate Scholarship Fund and Endowment: Trustee and board member, David J. Vitale, established this scholarship fund for our undergraduates.

Mary Yetton Endowed Endowed Scholarship: Long-time Chair of Psychology, Mary Yetton, bequeathed funds from her estate for an endowed and an expendable fellowship to support partial tuition for graduate students.

Steve Pounian and Bryan Dunn Donor and Board of Overseers member, David J. Vitale
